

Huntingtower image1

Huntingtower image2

Huntingtower image3

Huntingtower image4

Retired Glasgow grocer, Mr Dickson McCunn, reflects on thirty-five years in business in Mearns Street as he contemplates his old shop, while an employee of United Supply Stores, the owners of the property, starts to remove his name from the shop-front. Mr McCunn has also disposed of the branches in Crossmyloof and the Shaws... but the photograph in reality shows the premises of William Lyon (R.S.McLauchlan), Licensed Grocer and Provision Merchant of Ranfurly, Bridge of Weir, chosen by BBC Scotland as a location for the serialisation of Huntingtower, produced by Pharic MacLaren in 1978.

Original photograph by William Leitch, Bridge of Weir, published in the John Buchan Journal Vol 1 No.3 Spring 1982.

BBC Huntingtower Serialisation 001 scene description

Huntingtower Film Silent version 1927 with Harry Lauder 002

Huntingtower Film - 1927 with Harry Lauder 001

BBC Huntingtower scene